This Appointments Guide has been created to assist RDA Chairs to complete recruitment processes relating to key positions.

RDA Chairs must use the Application Packs relating to Deputy Chairs and members when recruiting for these positions as the packs provide consistent requirements for all RDA Chairs including position descriptions, a skills matrix, selection criteria and key consent and declaration requirements.

Other materials have been developed to support the completion of recruitment processes and RDA Chairs may use or adapt these or, alternatively, they may choose to develop their own.

RDA Chairs should also note that they:

- Are required to seek the agreement of the Commonwealth Minister with responsibility for regional development (the Minister) and funding partners for the appointment of Deputy Chairs; and
- Can appoint members without seeking further agreement

A report detailing the recruitment process and the Selection Panel and Chair (if the Chair was not a member of the selection panel) deliberations and recommendations for Deputy Chair and, where required, member appointments must be provided to the Minister and funding partners to facilitate their consideration of the appointment recommendations.

Introduction

Regional Development Australia (RDA) is a national network of committees made up of local leaders who work with all levels of government, business and community groups to support the economic development of their regions.

RDA Far West have an active and facilitative role in their region and a clear focus on growing strong and confident Far West economy that harness the region's competitive advantages, seizes on economic opportunity and attracts investment.

There are three key appointments to the RDA Far West Committee:

- The Chair of the Committee – this is a volunteer position responsible for leading the Committee. The Chair has overall responsibility for setting strategic direction and ensuring that objectives and outcomes are achieved. They will have an active role in facilitating economic development opportunities for the region. The Chair also has overall responsibility for ensuring the RDA Committee is well governed. The Commonwealth Minister with responsibility for regional development (the Minister), along with state, territory and local government counterparts where appropriate, appoints Chairs;
- The Deputy Chair and Committee members – these are volunteer positions which provide input into strategic direction setting, contribute to reviewing progress in achieving objectives and outcomes, and oversee the effectiveness of governance processes within the Committee. Like the Chair, they also have an active role in facilitating economic development opportunities for the region.

The Chair, on behalf of the RDA Committee:

- Appoints the Deputy Chair after agreement is provided from the Minister; and
- Can appoint members without seeking agreement from the Minister

The appointment process for the Chair, Deputy Chair and members' positions is an application style process, where interested community members' applications are assessed for their suitability against a set of selection criteria. This process was designed to provide more rigour to the appointments process, and additional assurance that the most suitable appointments are made and that successful applicants have the skill sets needed to deliver outcomes for their region. This will provide both government and regions with a high degree of confidence that the best possible people are appointed to deliver outcomes for their regions.

The RDA Committee appointment process involves a series of discrete steps required to ensure the most suitable applicant is chosen for the role. These are:

This guide outlines each step in the appointment process and provides the communication and assessment material required to complete the process and ultimately find the right person for each role.

Determining the requirements for appointment to RDA Far West Committee

Deputy Chairs and members

The development of the position descriptions and selection criteria for Deputy Chairs and members of RDA Far West was based on the needs of Committees, as outlined in the RDA charter, and informed by an understanding of good practice in leading and contributing to the success of boards and committees.

RDA Far West Committee should be composed of members who collectively have the breadth and depth of skills needed to successfully deliver the requirements of the RDA charter. In addition, the members should have a sound understanding of good practice in leading and contributing to successful committees.

The makeup of RDA Far West's Committee should broadly reflect the industries, businesses and communities it represents. RDA Committees are also encouraged to reflect the demographics and diversity of the population of their region and consider the Government's target for 50% Women on Boards and the target of 3% Indigenous representation or increased representation if the RDA Committee has already met these targets.

Core skills needs

Based on the position descriptions below and a consideration of the key skills required in the leadership and management of boards and committees, the following core skill needs have been identified for Chairs, Deputy Chairs and members:

1. Leadership and governance – experience in leading organisations including an understanding of the relevant governance and performance management principles.
2. Delivery focus – experience in leading high performing organisations that have had success in achieving difficult outcomes within tight timeframes and in a complex environment.
3. Business acumen – experience in making successful business decisions and being able to recognise and seize business opportunities.
4. Stakeholder engagement – experience managing a broad range of stakeholders in a complex environment to achieve successful outcomes.
5. Representational skills – experience representing the regional, business and/or industry, highly developed networks and networking skills and an ability to translate these into economic development opportunities.
6. Commitment to the region – have a clear and strong commitment to the region including an understanding of local issues and how the RDA can broker solutions to these issues

Position description

The role of the Deputy Chair is to assume the role and duties of the RDA Chair, as defined below, whenever the Chair is not available. The Deputy Chair also plays an important role in supporting the Chair in day-to-day matters and has similar skills to the Chair.

The role of the RDA Committee Chair is to lead a diverse organisation of individuals working in a complex environment to deliver high value outcomes for the community and the region. The Chair is a recognised business or regional leader who champions local job creation and sustainable regional growth.

They network widely across industry sectors, and attract and facilitate opportunities and investment in their region. They are very knowledgeable about the economic, social, cultural and environmental opportunities and challenges facing their region; well connected and a strong advocate for their region; and draw their community together to build and drive economic growth.

The RDA Chair provides strategic direction and leadership to the RDA Committee and ensures corporate governance arrangements are effectively designed and implemented. They demonstrate strong leadership to the Committee and have a sound understanding of board or committee performance management, including people and organisational management processes.

Accountabilities and responsibilities

The RDA Deputy Chair will be accountable to:

- The Chair – for supporting the activities of the Committee;
- Their communities – for delivering outcomes that meet regional needs;
- The funding providers – for ensuring that agreed objectives are achieved and resources invested are expended as efficiently and effectively as possible; and
- RDA Committee staff – for providing a safe and healthy workplace.

The RDA Deputy Chair will be responsible for supporting the RDA Committee to meet the requirements of the charter, deliver against the outcomes, reporting requirements and performance measures specified in the RDA Funding Agreement, and for the good operational and financial governance of the overall organisation.

Selection criteria

RDA Deputy Chairs are expected to be able to demonstrate a high level of:

1. Leadership and governance – A successful applicant will have a very high degree of experience and capability in leading organisations and be able to demonstrate a high degree of knowledge of the governance and performance management principles that apply. They have most likely chaired a board or committee and/or led an organisation and achieved successful and sustainable outcomes in this role(s). They will be very familiar with the types of processes required to manage an organisation, board or committee and have experience leading a group of people in a complex setting.

2. Delivery focus – A successful applicant will have had significant experience in actively and substantively contributing to the leadership of high performing organisations that have had success in achieving difficult outcomes within tight deadlines and in a complex environment.
3. Business acumen – A successful applicant will have an extensive history of making very good business decisions under pressure and being able to quickly identify and seize business opportunities when they present themselves. They have most likely had a very successful career in business or in a commercially oriented public sector or not-for-profit organisation and will be recognised as a business leader in any of these sectors.
4. Stakeholder engagement – A successful applicant will have been successful in managing a broad range of stakeholders in a complex environment to facilitate the achievement of very successful outcomes. They will have a high degree of experience in managing complex relationships including how to manage conflict between stakeholders.
5. Representational skills – A successful applicant will have had extensive experience representing regional, business and/or industry interests in a variety of forums. They are recognised as a business, industry and/or regional leader and are regularly called upon to represent these groups as appropriate. They have a sound understanding of the complexities involved in representing a diverse set of people and views that typically exist within a region, business and/or industry groups and can articulate what is necessary to be successful in such a role.
6. Commitment to the region – To be successful, an applicant will be expected to have a deep commitment to the region. They will have significant personal and business networks, be able to clearly articulate the key issues facing the region and how the RDA Committee can broker solutions to these issues. The applicant may live or have lived or have business interests in the region and will be a regional, industry and/or business leader.

Selection process description

Applying for a Deputy Chair position involves completing this form and providing a brief Curriculum Vitae (CV).
